H.R. 3646

An act for the relief of certain Persian Gulf evacuees

As cleared by the Congress on October 24, 2000

H.R. 3646 would grant permanent status for residence in the United States to 140 individuals who were evacuated from Kuwait during the Persian Gulf war; these people have resided in the United States since 1990. This legislation could have an effect on fees collected by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, but we estimate that any such effect would not be significant.
